NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 5, '98.

The Graded schools opened this morning with over five hundred scholars. This is the second year of this, the best institution of any description that has ever been established in this city. There were present Editor J. J. Farriss, Rev. Mr. Alderman, A. F. Eshleman and a representative of the Raleigh News and Observer. After announcements by Supt. Geo. H. Crowell, the above named visitors made a few very appropriate remarks. The faculty this year will be the same as last except Miss Henryanna Hackney, who is succeeded by Miss Cornelia Roberson, of Guilford College. Another teacher will doubtless have to be added to this excellent corps if the roll is increased any. Success to the graded schools of this city.

The northbound noon train Saturday was three hours late, thus the Telegram failed to get our dots which we regret very much.

The foundation has been laid for the girls domitory at the Normal and Industral school (col.) It is 45x75 and will be three stories high. The work is being done by the students. The brick were made on the grounds from the clay that was removed for the foundation.

The north end of Willowbrook street near the Bellevue hotel is being greatly improved by the street force.

J. A. Wofford and family who have been visiting in Lawrence, S. C., have returned home.

C. M. Crawford, the hustling manager of the High Point Clothing Company, left yesterday for the northern markets to buy their fall stock. We may look for something nobby when "Milt" returns.

Mrs. N. H. Wilson and two sons, of Atlanta, the family of the proprietor of the Jarrell hotel, have arrived in the city.

William Hicks, superintendent of the Tate Furniture Co., is visiting in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. James Howard and Mrs. C. E. Foy and daughter, Miss Annie, who have been spending several weeks here, have returned home. While here they made many friends.

Mrs. H. E. Seago, of Albemale, who has been spending several weeks here with relatives, has returned to her home.

Miss Ethel Bonnen, who has been visiting in Pleasant Garden, returned home Sunday night. She was accompanied by Miss Rosa Gray, who will visit here.

Miss V. Smith left Saturday for the northern cities to buy her fall stock of millinery.

Mrs. W. E. Johns, of Mt. Airy, who has been visiting her son, W. E. Johns, Jr., has returned home.

Mrs. M. H. Shiplett returned this morning from Thomasville, where she has been visiting.

Storm in Winston.

A passenger from Winston this morning reports a severe wind and rain storm in that city and vicinity last evening between 5 and 6 o'clock. The old factory building of Messrs. P. H. Hanes & Co. was unroofed, as well as several other buildings. Terrible damage was done to corn and tobacco in the fields. Our informant tells us that as far as four or five miles this side of Winston the growing crops were blown down and in some instances ruined.

Pocketbook Stolen.

A negro who gave his name as Edward King was arrested Saturday afternoon for stealing a pocketbook from a colored woman. It contained a railroad ticket from Atlanta to Norfolk.

PRESIDENT WAS APPALLED

By The Horrors Presented At Camp Wikoff.

BY THE SIDE OF DYING HEROES.

He Seizes Fever-Racked Soldiers By The Hand and Thanks Them For Their Gallant Fighting.

President McKinley spent five hours inspecting Camp Wikoff Saturday. Columns have been written of the horrors of the place, and the President's verdict is a forcible confirmation, for he decided that the best thing to do was to get the troops away from Montauk Point as soon as possible. The volunteers will be sent home on furloughs and he issued an order directing the regulars to return to their stations east of the Mississippi.

From yesterday's Philadelphia Record we get the following interesting account of the presidents visit to the sick soldiers:

Miss Wheeler, a daughter of the General, happened to be in the first row of the hospital tents and she showed the President through her division. General Wheeler announced in each ward: "Boys, the President has come to see you," or "Soldiers, the President of the United States." Some of the soldiers were still unconscious, some listlessly raised on their elbows, others feebly clapped their hands. Mr. McKinley gently shooks hands with many, and at every cot he paused an instant and if he saw the sick man looking at him he bowed in a direct and personal way.

In the second ward Sergeant John A. Alexander, Company D, First Illinois, who has a fever, was rather startled by hearing General Wheeler announce the President. The sergeant half raised up on his cot.

BEGGED TO GO HOME.

Mr. McKinley, attracted by the movement, took Alexander's hand and said: "I am sorry to see you sick. I hope that you are getting better."

"Thank you; I think I shall get well."

"Do you wish for anything?" inquired General Wheeler.

"No I have everything good for me, I guess," Alexander replied, wearily, "But I wish I were home."

"I hope that we may soon get you there," said Mr. McKinley.

He had many such bits of talk with the men, and seemed to be in no hurry. He almost outwore the patience of all his party by his slow-going through ward after ward.

AT A SANTIAGO HERO'S COT.

On the first bed in the second ward lay a soldier who was too ill to sit up. He stretched out his hand and attempted to speak as he caught sight of the President, who noticing the efforts, squeezed down between the cots and grasped the man's hand.

"You fought in Cuba?" he asked of the soldier.

An affirmative nod was the only answer the man could give.

"You are a noble man, and your country will not forget you," continued the President.

WOMAN SCORES ALGER TO HIS FACE.

While in the general hospital, Mrs. Hugo Lang, a volunteer nurse, stepped in front of the President, and after the exchange of pleasant greetings, said: "Mr. President do you see those empty cots over there?"

"Why certainly," replied Mr. McKinley.

"Well, do you know," went on Mrs. Lang, "that sick soldiers are lying on the damp grass in tents who ought to be occupying these cots? It is true, but the sick soldiers are not permitted to occupy these cots. Why, I don't know."

The President looked at Secretary Alger, the Secretary looked at General Wheeler, but not a word did any one answer.

VISITS A DYING LIEUTENANT.

When seemingly all the wards of the general hospital had been gone through and the President was about to get into a carriage Attorney General Griggs detained him.

"Miss Wheeler, has told me," said he, "of a Lieutenant Prado, who is in a tent back here by himself, and he is in a dying condition. He has asked about your coming and Miss Wheeler has promised that you shall see him."

"Certainly. Let us go to him," Mr. McKinley said.

The others of the party discreetly remained outside the tent. The President reappeared with the nurse a minute or two later. His eyes were moist and downcast.

After quitting the hospital President McKinly was amused by Major Lebo showing him a copy of a bulletin that Major Hutchins, chief of the Bureau of Information, had posted in front of his tent as follows: "The President of the United States, Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines arrived in camp at 9 a. m. September 3, 1898.

PRESIDENT'S 6-FOOT JUMP.

As it was inconvenient to go back to the doors of the long tents, Mr. McKinley would go through the framework at the ends of the tents and jump down The general hospital is on a slope, and the height of the floors from the ground increased with each ward. At Ward F the jump was nearly 6 feet. Mr. McKinley took it. Vice-President Hobart, who is somewhat of a bulky man, hesitated.

Neither would Secretary Alger, who had taken all the jumps until then. But General Wheeler sprang lightly down. The day was hot. Mr. McKinley wore a black frock coat with a waistcoat. The perspiration streamed from his face. A glass of appollinaris was offered to him, but he declined to drink, saying he was too warm.

BEFORE 5000 SOLDIERS.

He proceeded to the infantry plain. The men of the Ninth Massachusettes, the First Illinois, the Eighth Ohio, the Thirteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second and Tenth regular infantry were assembled without arms. About 5000 stood in close order. Gen. Wheeler said:

"The president of our great country has come here to greet the soldiers that marched so gallantly up San Juan Hill on July 1. He comes here to express the nation's thanks to these brave men. I wish to tell you that when the president sent me here 2 weeks ago to command this camp he enjoined me in the most emphatic language that I should, without regard to expense, exercise every and any authority necessary to make comfortable this body of brave men who by their courage have raised this republic to the highest position among the great nations of the earth. I have the honor and pleasure of introducing to you the president of the United States."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

President McKinley said: "General Wheeler, Soldiers of Camp Wikoff, Soldiers of the Fifth Army Corps: I trust that you will put your hats on—I am glad to meet you. I am honored to stand before you today. I bring you the gratitude of the nation to whose history you have added by your valor a new and glorious page. You have come home after two months of severe campaigning, which has embraced assault, siege and battle, so brilliant in achievement, so far-reaching in results, as to command the unstinted praise of all your countrymen. You had the brunt of the battle on land.

BRAVERY NEVER EXCELLED.

"You bore yourself with supreme courage, and your personal bravery, never before excelled anywhere, has won the admiration of your fellow citizens and the genuine respect of all mankind, while your endurance under peculiar trial and suffering has given added meaning to your heroism. Your exertions made easy the conquest of Porto Rico under the resistless army commanded by Major General Miles, and behind you, to proceed at a moment's summons, were more than 200,000 of your comrades ready to support you, disappointed that the opportunity which you had did not come to them, yet filled with pride at your well earned fame and rejoicing upon your victories.

THANKS OF A PEOPLE, THEIRS.

"You were on the line of battle; they, no less than you, were on the line of duty. All have served their country in its need, all will serve it so long as they may be required, and all will forever have the thanks and regard of a grateful people.

"We cannot bid you welcome here today without our hearts going out to the heroes of Manila on sea and land, whose services and sacrifices, whose courage and constancy in that far distant field of operations have never been surpassed by any soldiers or sailors the world over.

GLORIOUS ARMY AND NAVY.

"To the army and the navy, to the marines, to the regulars, to the volunteers, and to that Providence which has watched over them all, the nation today is full of thanksgiving and praise. The brave officers and men who fell in battle and those who have died from exposure and sickness will live in immortal story and their memories will be perpetuated in the hearts and the history of a generous people,

KEEP IT UP.

Let There be no Cessation in the Good Work.

Great good is being accomplished for the cause of democracy and good government by the grand rallies and barbecues being gotten up in the different counties. The next one will be at Asheboro on Thursday of this week.

Let the good work go on until our state is wrenched from the control of the corrupt men who are daily debauching her fair name. Let the white men of all political creeds get together and remove this foul blot from the escutcheon of North Carolina.

Every county should get up a rally and barbecue and bring together and marshal the hosts of white people of the state and get them interested and enlisted in the good work that is being carried on for the redemption of the Tarheel state.

Good speakers, the best of North Carolina's noble men, entertain the people on these occasions and they should be kept up. Let old Guilford be the next county to fall in line in this work. We can and must get a move on us.

SHERMAN SAYS TOO EARLY

To Decide About Taking the Ohio Governorship.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 5—Ex-Sec. Sherman authorizes a denial of the story which was published this morning to the effect that he informed Private Dalzell, of Columbus, of his determination to accept the governorship of Ohio. He says it is too early to decide upon such a course. He doesn't know if he will take part in the Ohio campaign.

Big Business in August.

The two features of the current business news are especially significant. The bank clearings for August were not only the largest ever recorded for that month, but were 23 per cent in excess of the total similar payments in August, 1892— a year of exceptional activity in trade. Average prices of commodities being lower than they were six years ago, the payments through banks necessarily represent a relatively greater increase in the exchange of such merchandise. In connection with this demonstration of the immensity of the country's business during August we have the gratifying statements made by R. G. Dun & Co. that business failures were considerably smaller in that month than in any one month during the past five years.

The biggest volume of business and the fewest commercial casulties combine to make an August trade record to be proud of, and one that may be well regarded as a most hopeful augury of prosperous conditions in the future.—Philadelphia Record.

Grand Army Encampment.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Cincinnati, Sept. 5—The railways are bringing in a large number of excursions filled with people who come to attend the Grand Army encampment. Although Camp Sherman was not dedicated until ten o'clock this morning it was occupied yesterday by soldiers. The comfort committee saw that all veterans were well cared for.

Anglo-Egyptian Victory.

By Cable THE TELEGRAM.

London, Sept. 5—The war office this morning received a report from the commander of the forces at Omdurman, stating the number of officers and men killed in a fight which resulted in a victory for the Anglo-Egytian over the Dervishes. Forty-six officers and men were killed and 333 wounded.

Bayard's Condition Unchanged.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Dedham, Mass., Sept. 5—The condition of Bayard has remained unchanged for the past twenty-four hours.

A GRAND STAND PLAY.

A careful reading of Justice Walter Clark's "speech" in the Kilgo matter which was published in the Sunday News and Observer shows conclusively that it was written not for the purpose of convincing the jury in the case, even if he ever entertained the remotest idea of reading it to them; but it was written for the purpose of appealing to the populace—those who did not hear the evidence. He would have the people believe the "speech" was ready for delivery at the trial after Dr. Kilgo's speech, when in truth the document printed in the News and Observer shows that it was prepared after Dr. Kilgo had addressed the board. It occupies fourteen columns of fine type, solid matter, and its preparation and reducing it to manuscript necessarily required several hours labor. He says at the outset:

"If this were an oratorical contest I would say what I have to say without manuscript. But as I might have the fate of Dr. Kilgo, at the coronation of Mr. Duke, and the notes of my speech taken down by another might differ from my recollection, I have reduced my argument to writing that I may read it."

That he really had this speech, as printed, prepared and reduced to manuscript at the close of Dr. Kilgo's speech we do not believe. For this reason we repeat it was, in our opinion, written for publication and to appeal to those who had not heard the evidence. This is further proven by the fact that the regular edition of the News and Observer was not sufficient to give publicity to it and it was printed in a special eighteen thousand edition of the Sunday paper. It is further evidenced by the speech itself in which direct appeals are made for a popular verdict.

Judge Clark's intimation that those newspapers which have opposed him in his fight against Dr. Kilgo are "owned in part or controlled by the Dukes" carries with it not a semblance truth. Such a statement coming from a low order of politician or any man occupying a less exalted position than that of Supreme Court Justice would not be noticed; but coming from this source, speaking for this paper, we repudiate and denounce the insinuation as maliciously false.

We have opposed Judge Clark's fight on Dr. Kilgo, not because we thought Dr. Kilgo was the purest man under the sun, for there are many good men in the Methodist church, aye, even on the board of trustees of Trinity College; not because we thought Washington Duke was the greatest living man; but because we honestly and sincerely believed the fight on Dr. Kilgo was uncalled for and unjust.

And we still believe so notwithstanding the efforts of Judge Clark in the matter, and the "speech" in the News and Observer which we know no better how to characterize than simply as a grand stand play.

ADAMS' NOMINATION.

Prospects are brightening for democratic success in the Fifth congressional district. The old adage that "a house divided against itself cannot stand" is true in everything, perhaps, unless it is the republican party, which, all men will confess, is pretty much like a joint snake. It is fair to presume that without sharp, shrewd work by his personal enemies, Hon. Thomas Settle would have been the republican nominee for congress. He was bitterly and vindictively fought and defeated, and Judge Adams, who had already been nominated for the judgeship, was placed in the field.

It is not known at this writing whether or not Judge Adams will resign the judgeship and run for congress, but it is known that he promised not to do so when he received the judicial nomination, and he has since repeatedly avowed his determination to stay in the race for judge. In spite of the joint snake proclivities of the republican party this condition of things weakens their prospects in this district both as to congressional and judicial candidates.

There is a bitter fight between leaders of the party which can hardly be declared off in time to do united work before election day. And whether Judge Adams accepts the congressional nomination or whether he does not his nomination has not added to republican prospects. In either event the committee will have to select a candidate, and committee nominations are always placed at a disadvantage by reason of not having been put out in the regular way, unless it is on account of the retirement of a candidate by sickness or other similar reason.

Adams has been nominated for two offices, where there are other men in the district who are his superiors both in practice, learning and ability. There is such a thing as a man's being popular to his detriment and to the detriment of his party. Adams' seeming popularity is not on account of personal brilliancy, but the much-nominated man is the victim of the enemies of another man.

Assistant Secretary O. L. Spaulding, of the treasury department, has notified Mayor Malster, of Baltimore, that the gun which is being forwarded to that city from Manila will be admitted at the port of New York duty free. This gun, it will be remembered, was taken from the Reina Christina at the instance of Captain Dyer, of the cruiser Baltimore, and is to be presented to the Oriole city on his behalf.

The prize peach story of the season comes from Portertown, Md., where the largest specimen of the fruit ever grown is said to have been found in the orchard of Emory Thomas. The peach grew on a twig less than an inch long, springing from one of the main limbs. It is twenty-seven inches in circumference and nine inches in diameter.

and those who are dependent on them will not be neglected by the government for which they so freely sacrificed their lives."

The soldiers cheered many times. The part of the field where the Eighth Ohio stood, the regiment which is sometimes called the "President's Own," was particularly noisy.

WITH BARE HEAD AT HEROES' GRAVES

The party then went to the detention hospital by a road that passed in the rear of the general hospital. The graveyard in which sixty or seventy plain new wooden crosses stood near the road on the left. The president solemnly raised his hat. Mr. McKinley went through all the wards of the detention hospital in the same careful way in which he had gone through those of the general hospital.

When he came to the last ward Maj. R. T. Ebert said: "This is a dangerous ward," and turning to Secretary of War Alger, inquired: "Do you think the president had better go in here?"

BRAVED IT, BUT ALGER DIDN'T.

Mr. McKinley, without waiting to hear what General Alger's reply would be, started into the ward. General Alger and the others of the party remained outside.

The presidential party then drove through lines of cavalry drawn up on either side of the road. Among them were the Rough Riders, the Second, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, and First regular cavalry. Mr. McKinley drove to General Wheeler's headquarters and sat under the shade of a tent flap for a while. Mr. Alger and General Wheeler were with him.

The president saw Colonel John Jacob Astor in a group a few yards away and he beckoned to the colonel, who went over, shook hands with the president and sat a few minutes in the party.

SHOCKED AT TROOPS' SUFFERINGS.

President McKinley was shocked on learning of the terrible sufferings of the Michigan troops from the heat while enroute from the camp to Long Island City yesterday by rail. The president urged that something be done at once to supply the troops leaving camp with plenty of ice and wholesome rations, so that their discomfort while traveling in the cars will be as light as possible.

The presidential party arose on the train at 7 o'clock this morning at Amagansett, 12 miles from camp. Secretary Alger was the first man to show himself. He got out of the car, and after lighting his pipe took a short stroll. The party had all arisen in the meantime, and breakfast was served the president in his private car. General Alger did not take breakfast, but continued his walk until a short time before the train started for Montauk.

M'KINLEY PLEASED AT HIS VISIT.

The presidential party left on a special train at 1:50. On the train Mr. McKinley made this statement: "I was very much pleased to meet the heroes of Santiago and to observe their splendid spirit. What I saw of the care of the sick men in the hospitals by those in charge and by the noble women engaged in that work was especially gratifying to me."

Vice-President Hobart said: "I am not an army officer and have not a full experience in judging of camps and camp systems, but it seems to me that Camp Wikoff was admirably adapted for army purposes at this time as a camp for recuperation.

SHOULD HAVE EVERY COMFORT.

"The hospitals and hospital service seem perfect in appointments, and well adapted for the rapid recovery of the sick. The hospital locations, their surroundings and their climatic conditions could not be improved. The men with their trained nurses, cheerful surroundings, full medical equipments and good hospital service, will soon be ready to be sent home. The country is rich enough, prosperous enough, to give these heroes every comfort, every consideration and every luxury that they deserve or request. The men will be best cared for by being patient in their present surroundings."

ALGER SATISFIED WITH THE CAMP.

Secretary of War Alger said: "I find that things are in better condition than they were when I was here a week ago. I am well satisfied with the camp."

Ex-Secretary of War Proctor said: "The location of the camp seems to me ideal. It has water on both sides, a soil dry by natural drainage and a pleasant breeze from the sea. It is measurelessly better than the hospitals I was familiar with during the civil war. I think the president's visit will do the men good. It will give them something to think about and break the monotony."

The president will spend Sunday with Vice-President Hobert, in Paterson, N. J.

The United States Fish Commission boat Grampus arrived today bringing 1,000 pounds of fresh fish for the hospitals. Water is still scarce in the camp, and as a result there is much suffering.

A theatre program printed in Boston contains an advertisement that is almost as amusing as the performance on the stage. It runs: "—— —— —— will, with this coupon and 25 cents, shampoo your head."

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23rd, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health: in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., of Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Lunchtime In San Francisco.

For a year a wholesale house in San Francisco has experimented with the plan of closing its place of business each day from 12 to 1 o'clock, during which hour all the employees obtain their noonday meal. The arrangement was found to have many advantages over the old way of permitting the clerks to go to luncheon by relays, and it has so commended itself to other wholesalers there that a movement is on foot to make the plan general.

In most of the large houses the first relay goes to lunch at 11 o'clock, and generally it is well on into the afternoon before the last of the clerks get a chance to get away from their work for the midday meal. The managers of the houses say that the working forces of the stores are demoralized for at least, say, three hours each day on account of the lunch hour system now in vogue. With the proposed system the store would be closed for an hour every day, but during business hours all hands would be ready for service, making less friction in the transaction of business and securing greater attention to customers.

If this plan works well in San Francisco, there is no reason why it should not work well in other places, and perhaps the retail stores might also find pleasure and profit in it.—New Haven Journal.

The Car "Hove To."

An old bo'sun's mate of the U. S. S. Princeton, a bit wabbly as to his underpinning, at the corner of Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue the other night was waiting for a navy yard car. Two or three of the cars passed him by whizzing because, in the obscurity, the motorman couldn't make out the figure of the old time flatfoot. The old navy bluejacket didn't appear to like this, and when the next navy yard car came whizzing around the corner of Fifteenth street he took his stand in the middle of the track and let out a ship's call that could be heard two blocks.

"Heave to, till I board ye!" he shouted. The car "hove to," and the old bo'sun's mate pulled alongside, climbed over the gangway and was off in a bunch.—Washington Post.

Wants to Do Some Christening.

Mrs. Louise H. Pratt of Sherwood, Wis., thinks that sweet young things with golden hair should not monopolize the privilege of naming warships; so she wants to be allowed to name the battleship Wisconsin. Among her qualification she mentions the following: She is 51 years old, got her education in a little log schoolhouse in Wisconsin, knows how to cook, knit, spin and make soft soap, wears her hair short and has christened and reared two boys and two girls of her own.

The Corbett-McCoy Fight.

New York, Sept. 4—Jim Corbett, who arrived here at noon today met "Kid" McCoy at an uptown sporting resort, and they arranged to fight their proposed battle on October 15, at Buffalo. Corbett left for Asbury Park tonight, and will resume training on Monday. McCoy will return to Saratoga. Corbett said: "I have decided to quit the ring, after this fight, win or lose."

Killed in a Mine.

Salisbury, N. C., Sept. 2—Capt. W. F. Younts and "Bob" Hanna were killed by a cavein at Sallie Coggins' gold mine, Montgomery county, Tuesday.

The cavein was due to heavy rains. Younts was running the mine for members of the standard Oil Company, getting part of the profits.

The high estimate in which members of the insurgent army were held by our soldiers in Cuba is indicated by the following extract from a letter written by a Kansas boy to the folks at home: "On landing at Daiquiri we found considerable wine and some beer from the United States; and after letting the Cubans taste to ascertain whether or not it was poisoned, and finding that it was not the soldiers took charge of that.

One of the interesting features of the Transmissippi Exposition is a Nebraska sod house, constructed under the direction of Mrs. L. Bowser, of Norfolk, Neb. It is an exact imitation of the house in which Mrs. Bowser lived when she first took up her residence in the state many years ago. In this primitive structure the mistress serves coffee and biscuits to several hundred visitors every day.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Carpets and Curtains

We have just received direct from the carpet mills, and have on exhibition in our Carpet Department on second floor, the largest line of Carpets in all grades of Ingrains, Brussels, Velvets and Axminsters that has ever been shown in this city, and we invite your inspection of these lines before you buy.

Remember that we measure your floor and have the carpet cut to fit, made and laid for yon without extra charge, thereby saving you the worry of having them sewed, and the risk of a misfit.

Also a fine line of Irish Point and Net Curtains just opened. Call and see them.

Listen

To what the Weather Man Has to say.

We have our clothing window full today of choice patterns for fall and winter wear.

The goods are all of the justly celebrated Hamburger Brother's make of highly tailored garments.

Our customers are aware of the many superior features in the make up, fit and finish of these garments, and those who have not been fortunate enough to learn these things cannot commence earlier to inform themselves that it is an easy matter to procure our ready-to-wear garments at a reasonable price, and have a garment that fits, wears, and gives entire satisfaction.

Don't buy a suit that does not fit—you can get them from us that DO.

Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud

Clothiers and Haberdashers,

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Labor Day.

J. H. Millis, of High Point, was in the city today.

John Lambeth, of Reidsville, was in the city today.

C. C. Fordham, of Raleigh, spent last night here with relatives.

Rev. Jesse Cunninggim returned from Durham at noon today.

Prof. W. T. Whitsett, of Whitsett Institute, was in the city today.

Prof. J. Allen Holt, of Oak Ridge Institute, was in the city this afternoon.

M. G. Newell is in Cincinnati on a business trip. He will be absent about a week.

Mrs. Will X. Coley, of Mocksville, passed through today enroute to Raleigh to visit relatives.

The No Charge Company has a new ad in this paper today to which we direct your attention.

Temple, the bicycle man, announces in his ad today the addition of a gun and locksmith department to his business.

Misses Kate Puller and Violet Richardson, of Richmond, Va., are visiting Mrs. J. H. Richardson on McAdoo avenue.

C. H. Dorsett who went to Gulf Saturday to see his sister returned yesterday. He reports his sister's condition slightly improved.

J. Giles Foushee, auditor of the Durham & Charlotte Railway Co., spent Sunday in the city and returned to Glendon at noon today.

West Market Epworth League will meet at 8 o'clock this evening instead of 8:30. Business of importance is to be transacted. Full attendance is desired.

The Misses Balsley, of Reidsville, came down from Belew's Creek at noon today and will spend a few days visiting the Misses Balsley here before returning home.

The contracts for putting in a complete heating system at the Normal have been let. Two contracts were made with two different firms for heating the different buildings.

The corner store room at the Benbow is now being repaired preparatory to its occupancy by Mr. Kaufman with a line full of gents' furnishings. Heavy plete glass windows are being put in and it will be a handsome store when completed.

S. G. Hodgin and Miss Hattie Hartsell left last night for the northern markets to buy the fall stock of goods for S. G. Hodgin & Co. Miss Hartsell will have charge of the millinery department which is to be added to the firm's business.

We call your attention to the new ad of W. A. Wingate. He has become sole owner of the bicycle business including the repair department hertofore known as Wingate Bros. He has just received a large stock of bicycle sundries, which he advertises to be sold very cheap and with a guarantee.

The recent rains have washed away some of the green and stagnant accumulations from South Elm street, south of the C. F. & Y. V. railway, but it looks sickly yet. The sanitary policeman tells us he is not to blame, and says he has repeatedly reported the matter to the proper source but that he can get nothing done.

Will Shelton, a colored boy, was jailed Saturday afternoon for socking his grandfather. Will, it is said, pounded his aged ancestor unmercifully. A release was obtained for him this morning by relatives, who promised to so instill the words of the Fifth Commandment into William's knotty brain that he would not again forget Labor Day.

A colored excursion from Winston to Richmond passed through at 12 o'clock today, being four hours late. The excursion was well filled and watermelons and cigars were much in evidence. Some of the men alighted from the cars and provided themselves with "something to drink" but alas! when they came out of the bars the train was pulling out. Several were left but they gave the train a hot chase for about a hundred yards.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by C. E. Holton.

AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

By Booker T. Washington at A. and M. College Yesterday.

On yesterday afternoon, as previously announced, Booker T. Washington, president of the colored Normal College of Tuskegee, Ala., delivered an address at the colored A. and M. College of this city. After a short prayer by Rev. L. Johnson, President Dudley, in a few well chosen words, introduced the speker.

The address, while primarily intended for the colored people, was attentively listened to by a large number of whites. It was replete with plain spoken argument, showing the need of the negro for a practical, industrial education. The speaker was truly earnest and eloquent in an appeal to his people to strive for higher and better things as citizens.

When the colored man combines educated brains with skilled hands and puts these into honest industry and correct living, then will come self-respect and the respect of others. When the colored man shows himself to be a useful and intelligent citizen, then will the negro or the race problem be a matter of easy solution.

Arrangements Perfected.

For West's annual excursion to Asheville. The date has been arranged for Wednesday, Sept. 21st, and the excursion will positively be operated on that date and Mr. West is getting his advertising matter out. The excursion will be composed of ten first-class coaches and will start from Danville at 10 a. m , fare $3 50; Reidsville, 10:30 a. m., fare $3.00; Greensboro, 11:50 a. m., fare $3.00. Passengers will be taken from all stations between Danville and Asheville. We arrive at Asheville at 7 p. m., in time for supper. Returning the train leaves Asheville at 12 M., Friday, the 23rd, arriving home in time for supper.

Reduced rates to Knoxville, Hot Springs, and Waynesville will be given our excursion. See advertisement of excursion in this paper or for further information you can address the manager, J. H. West, Greensboro.
